

City of Plantation, Florida
Public Records Policy

I. Purpose:

The purpose of this Public Records Policy is to provide guidance to City of Plantation departments and staff on processes and procedures for public records retention, records disposition and how to properly coordinate and respond to public records requests from any individual or entity in compliance with Chapter 119 of the Florida Statutes, also known as the "Public Records Act."

II. Scope:

This Policy applies to all employees of the City of Plantation as well as publicly created advisory boards and private entities that contract with the City or receive public funds.

III. Definitions:

Records Custodian: the designated custodian of municipal records, responsible for providing directions on records retention/disposition in all record-keeping units. The City Clerk for the City of Plantation is the records custodian.

In accordance with Chapter 119 of the Florida Statutes, a requestor is not required to submit a written request for documents, nor is it within our purview to ask who the requesting party is should they wish not to reveal their name or affiliation, or why the records are being requested.

Records Series: means a group of related public records arranged under a single filing arrangement or kept together as a unit (physically or intellectually) because they consist of the same form, relate to the same subject or function, result from the same activity, document a specific type of transaction, or have some other relationship arising from their creation, receipt, or use. A record series might contain records in a variety of forms and formats that document a particular program, function, or activity of the agency.

Retention Schedule: means retention requirements established by the Florida Department of State Division of Library and Information Services for public records held by a specified agency within the State of Florida indicating the minimum time such records must be kept. General Records Schedules set retention requirements for records documenting administrative and program functions common to several or all government agencies. Not all individual records are covered by these General Records Schedules. Access to GS Retention Schedules can be found at: <https://dos.myflorida.com/library-archives/records-management/general-records-schedules/>

Summons: an official order requiring a person or the City to attend court, either to answer a charge or to give evidence, or the writ making such an order.

- In considering the above definitions, it is critical for the City staff to understand format, media type, or duplication does not affect the public record status of information created or received by a public agency. This policy applies to all public records, hardcopy as well as electronic records.
- There is no unfinished business exception. If the purpose of the record is to perpetuate, communicate or formalize knowledge, then it is a Public Record regardless of whether or not it is in final form. In the absence of final evidence of knowledge. Drafts that are not disseminated cease to be Public Record only after the final intended record has been produced.

IV. Record Retention:

All public records held by the City shall be retained and preserved in accordance with the Retention Schedules, as applicable and as may be amended from time to time, or as otherwise provided by the Florida Department of State, Division of Library and Information Services.

Florida's Records Management Program provides a process where agencies can receive minimum retention schedules for all City records. These retention schedules address the administrative, legal, fiscal and historical values for public records and constitute a minimum retention period. Departments in the City may elect to retain records beyond the minimum retention period approved by the Department of State.

General Records Schedules <https://dos.myflorida.com/library-archives/records-management/general-records-schedules/> set retention requirements for many records common to several public agencies. Based on these existing schedules, the City will utilize the State's General Record Schedules in determining the retention of records.

Protection and preservation of all public records is essential. This includes the physical protection from decay and environmental damage. This can be done in numerous ways, including storage in a protective/retardant vault and conversion to electronic record copies. Storage of all records under secure conditions, preventing unauthorized access by both employees and third parties is required. Any questions or concerns relating to the protection and preservation of City's public records can be addressed with the City Clerk's office.

V. Record Disposition:

As retention periods are met, the records must be destroyed.

Disposition is the application of approved retention schedules to a record series. The most economical solution to the public records management is to destroy based on GS retention schedules. Section 119.021 F.S., states that public agencies "shall systematically dispose of records no longer needed" according to Department of State requirements. In the event the City is involved in or can reasonably anticipate, litigation on a particular issue, the City must maintain in native format any and all related and legally discoverable electronic files and other records.

Record Liaisons shall identify and document specific information relating to the disposition/destruction of public records. This information includes: Retention Schedule number, record series title, inclusive dates of records, identifiable description of records, volume (cubit feet for paper records, if electronic, the number of bytes and indicate that the disposed records were in electronic from), and disposition action.

Disposition Procedure:

1. Record Liaisons review GS Schedule.
2. Record Liaisons initiate the disposal of Public Records documenting cubic foot volume to be destroyed on the City's Record Disposition Form. Sample form attached (Appendix A).
3. The City's Records Disposition Document must be filled out properly:
 - a. Boxes 1-4, Box 5 a-f, (leaving 5g blank) and submitted to the Clerk's office for review and approval.
4. Approval by Records Custodian is given in Box 6 on the Record Disposition Form, and returned to the Department's Record Liaison for record destruction:
5. If destruction is done at one of the City-wide Shred events- form will be held until shredding has been completed.
6. Upon destruction of the records, the one disposing of records, the date and method/manner of disposition must be noted in Box 5g, and Box 7 must be filled out on the Record Disposition Form, and a copy of the fully-completed form must be submitted to the Clerk's office.
7. If destruction is done at one of the City-wide Shred events, City staff who is monitoring the Shred event must complete Box 5g and Box 7. The form will be returned to the Department, and a copy of the fully completed form must be submitted to the Clerk's office.

VI. Record Requests

Background

1. Every person who has custody of a public record must permit the record to be inspected and/or copied by any person desiring to do so, at any reasonable time, under reasonable conditions, and under supervision by the City Clerk.
2. RECORDS vs. INFORMATION: Florida Public Records Law requires agencies to provide access to existing public records; it does not require that agencies create records or provide information from the records (answering questions).
 - a. EXISTING RECORD: Ch. 119, F.S., provides a right of access to inspect and copy an agency's existing public records; it does not mandate that an agency create new records in order to accommodate a request for information.
 - b. INFORMATION: A records liaison is not required to give out information from the records of their office, which includes answering questions.

Procedures

1. All Records requests, summons and subpoenas received by any Department are to be immediately sent to the City Clerk.
2. If the request is made to a Department, take the request for records and forward the information to the City Clerk's office.
3. The Clerk's office will enter the request into the public records management software (GovQA) and issue the request to the corresponding Department(s) for fulfillment.
4. Florida Law requires record requests to be acknowledged promptly and afforded a good faith response. The City Clerk's office will acknowledge the request in writing.
5. The Department(s) compiling the request will provide the City Clerk with an estimate of time and cost for production of the request prior to performing the work.

6. If the records are readily available and there are no costs involved in compiling the requested documentation the Department will immediately input the requested records into the associated file within the records management system.
7. If the request is extensive, the subject Department(s) are to provide the City Clerk with the actual amount of time spent on research and copying as well as the hourly rate of the employee(s) performing said research and/or copying.
8. The Clerk's office will notify the requestor with an estimate of costs, and will require a down payment, prior to completion of the request.
9. All records liaisons will reply to the requestor and/or supply the requested records through the records management system for electronically available records.
10. When all records requests are complete, the liaison will notify the City Clerk's office to close the request file.

Chapter 119, F.S., does not authorize an agency to require that requests for records be in writing. A requestor is not required to provide a name or a reason for making the request in order to receive copies of or access to public records.

Abandoned Requests

Should the City attempt to contact the requestor and/or transmit a cost estimate and the requestor fails to respond in good faith, the City shall deem the request as "abandoned" after a period of ten (10) business days and the log shall reflect the request as 'withdrawn'. In cases where holidays or other closures of the City's administrative offices occur, staff shall afford reasonable additional time to the requestor to respond

Standing Requests

The City shall not be required to process any 'standing request' for records that do not yet exist, or for records which may be created or received by the City at some future date. The City is only obligated provide records which exist at the time a public records request is submitted.

Requestor Disclosures

A person requesting access to or copies of public records may not be required to disclose their name, address, telephone number or the like.

1. A request for inspection or copying of records which is sufficient to identify the records must be honored by the records custodian whether the request is made in person, by telephone, or in writing. If the request is insufficient to identify the records sought, the Department holding the records should work with the requestor clarify the request.
2. A Department may ask the requestor to complete a form to assist in defining or documenting facts necessary for complying with records requests; however, the requestor is not obligated to complete or sign such a form as a condition for obtaining records.

Exemptions

1. Presumption of Openness All records are presumed open unless there is a specific statutory exemption. Accordingly, employees must be aware of current Florida Statutes that define public records exemptions. In the absence of a statutory exemption, a Records Liaison must produce the records requested regardless of the number of records involved or possible inconvenience.
2. Statutory Exemption Citation If a record or a portion thereof is exempt or confidential from public view (inspection and copying), the Records Liaison of the record must provide in writing the requestor with the Florida Statute that specifically exempts the record or portion thereof from public view.
3. Examine Records for Exempt Information Each document must be examined by the Records Liaison to ensure that all exempt or confidential information is redacted. If a record contains both exempt and non-exempt information, the Records Liaison must redact that which is exempt or confidential and provide access to the remainder.

NOTE: An agency may not ordinarily charge for the cost to review records for exempt information. However, pursuant to 119.07(4)(d) FS, an extensive use charge may be imposed if review and redaction require an extensive use of agency resources.

General Exemptions

Although documents that perpetuate, communicate, or formalize knowledge are public records, not all information found in that public record is necessarily subject to dissemination or release. Documents that contain protected exempt material will be redacted and the document shall then be released to satisfy the public records request. The City Clerk with assistance from the City Attorney will make the final determination of whether there are any statutory exemptions to a public records request. See F.S. 119.071 for general exemptions from inspection or copying of public records.

Screening of Records for Exempt or Confidential Information

By Florida law, records custodians/liaisons are mandated to review records which are known or suspected to contain exempt or confidential content. If a review of the responsive record(s) is warranted, it shall be completed expeditiously by a properly trained employee. Public records declared as Exempt or Confidential by law shall not be made available for inspection or copying to a member of the public, unless the exempted portions are sufficiently redacted to prevent disclosure.

- ❖ Appendix B contains a list of common exemptions.

Records Requested in Medium not Routinely Maintained by the City

An agency must provide a copy of a record in the medium requested if the agency maintains the record in that medium and may charge a fee for such copy. Florida Law does not require an agency to compile reports from records in a medium not routinely maintained by that agency. The agency may elect to provide records in a medium not routinely maintained with fees charged in accordance with F.S. 119.01(2)(f).

VII. FEES
